
Green shows candidates retained with reproductive tissues alone. Blue shows additional candidates admitted by the disposable compartments. Each candidate may occur in several sources. Both methods preserve family exclusions and nomination/review holdbacks. The strict screen also retains separate missing-IHC coverage flags in the candidate table.